WOMEN, MEN AND CHILDREN SERVED

OCTOBER 1, 2021 - SEPTEMBER 30, 2022

FROM THE BOARD CHAIR & PRESIDENT

Every day, women, men and children of all ages, ethnic and economic backgrounds come to The Women's Center seeking hope, emotional healing, solutions to family crises, and help finding a job or a path to a better life. The serious problems they bring are devastating—rape and child sexual abuse, unemployment, wages too low to keep a family together, deep depression and overwhelming circumstances created by violence, crisis and poverty.

We began 2022 as we had 2021, with the belief that the impact of COVID on our work, our staff and our clients would soon be over. However, that turned out to be untrue. There were continued variant surges causing illness for clients and staff. We also experienced the worst inflation in 40 years. As a result, the people who came to us for help had prolonged and worsening depression, weaker mental health and increased economic instability including food and housing insecurity.

We think the overriding description of what we encountered in all our programs was "desperation". We saw:

- Mothers living in cars with their children.
- People whose only food was the snack provided in our Jobs Now! seminars.
- More severe mental health problems including an increase in suicide ideation among teens and adults.

And through it all, we saw these same people remain Tenacious, Focused, Resilient, Courageous, Hopeful, and Grateful.

In the words of one of our therapists, we had to witness and know the worst things that can happen to people, but we also got to witness and know the best—that the human spirit is miraculous, and people can overcome anything with some hope and help.

It is our great privilege and honor to provide that hope and help, and to do it in partnership with our volunteers, donors, program partners, and most importantly, our clients. Please never doubt that together we are making miracles happen.

We hope you enjoy reading more about our work in 2022. Notice it takes all of us to change the world—one person and one family at a time.

In appreciation,

Lei Testa
Board Chair

Laura Hilgart
President/CEO

RAPE CRISIS & VICTIM SERVICES

5,888 CHILDREN & ADULTS SERVED

When Patrice and Troy Smith began services at The Women's Center, they were struggling to care for their four young foster-to-adopt children—two sets of two siblings, all under age 5. Siblings Kason and Kadyn came from a single mother who struggled with substance use and financial insecurity, which resulted in their ongoing neglect. Siblings Liam and Noah experienced sexual abuse in their prior home. All four children showed significant signs of trauma—including extreme anxiety, fear of separation, disrupted eating/sleeping, behavior problems in school and an inability to control their emotions. In spite of the Smith's love and dedication, the impacts of the children's trauma were overwhelming for the entire family.

Initially, Kason and Patrice began weekly counseling sessions at TWC. Troy was then brought in to learn the impacts of trauma and help implement a new parenting approach, which was vastly different from how he was parented. This therapy helped lessen parental disagreements.

Over time, all six members of the Smith family received therapy at The Women's Center, transforming the environment in their home. When Patrice suffered a near-fatal car accident, which triggered fear of abandonment from all four children, the family was able to use their newfound coping skills to manage their response. "I don't know if or how my family and my marriage could have survived were it not for the support of The Women's Center," said Patrice.

The future now looks bright for the Smith family, and they recently celebrated the birth of a new, healthy baby—lovingly welcomed by all siblings.

“

“I literally would not have been able to do this without you! The fact that you stayed with me all day here at the hospital. You waited through my initial reaction and advocated for me to share what I remembered. You saw the truth even when I couldn't. I couldn't have done this without you here.”

Mason's Story

Mason, a 3rd grader, was in therapy at The Women's Center. He was working through the trauma of sexual abuse he experienced in 2nd grade at the hands of a relative. Throughout their time together, the therapist would work with Mason to address other "lesser" traumas, such as the sudden loss of his dog, as she slowly moved towards addressing the larger trauma of sexual abuse. One day, the therapist asked, "What do you believe about yourself because of what happened?" Mason replied, "Oh, I believe I was really brave for telling! There is this program called Play it Safe![®] that comes to my school every year. And, every year they tell me that it is not my fault and that it is good to tell. So, I know it is not my fault, I'm just really brave and strong."

Tori's Story

During an 11th grade high school presentation of Play it Safe![®], Tori wrote down the number for the 24-Hour Rape Crisis Hotline that the trainer put on the board. After the presentation ended, she left campus and used the phone at a nearby gas station to call the crisis line and speak with a case manager. Tori reported that she was experiencing physical abuse by a family member and feeling unsafe, but that her mother and others continued standing up for the abuser—making any intervention from CPS difficult. The Women's Center case manager contacted law enforcement to meet with Tori immediately, where they took her statement and were able to intervene on her behalf.

“

“I have always talked to my children about safe/unsafe touch, but Play it Safe!® did it in a way that truly made Bailey comfortable and confident enough to come forward and speak up. This turned our whole world upside down. We have a long journey ahead, but she is safe now and as a parent, I truly can’t thank you enough!”

Dana, parent of child sexual abuse survivor

GENERAL COUNSELING

3,243 CHILDREN & ADULTS SERVED

When Barbara came to The Women's Center, she and her husband were experiencing domestic abuse by a family member who was struggling with mental health issues and substance abuse. The family member was becoming increasingly violent and aggressive towards them. Through a legal loophole, the family member took possession of their home, bank accounts and other valuables.

Instead of enjoying the retirement they'd planned, Barbara and her husband were homeless, experiencing financial insecurity and struggling with shame, hurt, anger, fear, anxiety, depression, and helplessness. They felt violated by their loved one and then violated by the legal system that was supposed to help and protect them.

Barbara reached out to The Women's Center and began therapy to work through the trauma of her victimization. Through therapy, she was able to reclaim her dignity and confidence, take back control of her life and help her husband begin healing from the victimization as well.

Barbara decided to reenter the workforce and participated in the Center's Employment Solutions Program, where she began to apply for jobs and get their affairs back in order. She was able to secure a position she loves and is using the skills she learned at The Center to manage her situation. She feels calm, peace, and excitement about a future filled with healing and hope. "The Women's Center gave me the hope I needed and the skills to cope as I was mapping out a new path for my husband and me. I have had the hardest moments in my life, and looking back at where it all started and what my situation was like, I never thought I would be this blessed—with my employment, becoming financially stable and empowered to keep going. Thank you for helping us get our lives back."

“

Setting goals for my PEARLS sessions was exactly what I needed to jump-start myself out of the depression that had almost paralyzed me for more than two years.”

Raymond, PEARLS client

EMPLOYMENT SERVICES

468 ADULTS SERVED

At 61, Reesa came to The Women's Center after fleeing an abusive relationship. She was unemployed, homeless and severely in debt. Initially, she worked with case managers in the Center's Rape Crisis and Victim Services Program, who helped her find stable transitional housing. She was then referred to the Employment Solutions Program, where she worked with a career coach to identify her strengths and transferable skills that would allow her to find a job making a sustainable income and focus on building a new life for herself.

Reesa's career coach and employment advisor helped her tailor her resume and improve her interviewing skills—building her confidence and empowering her during her job search. She soon accepted a full-time position as an executive assistant, a career where she enjoyed a better work/life balance than in previous roles. The job included medical, vision, and dental benefits as well as paid time off, with a starting salary of $55,000.

The Women's Center provided Reesa gas cards to cover her transportation cost until she received her first paycheck. Working with her financial coach, she created an action plan to decrease her debt and achieve financial stability. Her goal is to become self-sufficient and graduate from transitional housing into a permanent living arrangement.

"I am so excited and so grateful for your help in my employment search! You were so encouraging and gave me the help and confidence to get back out there! I'm doing all the things I can to move forward in my transformation process. Thank you so much for everything!"

“

Words cannot express how thankful I am to have you in my life. Thanks for allowing me to talk more than I should all the time, for listening to me anytime I call you. Most of all, thank you for encouraging me when I couldn't encourage myself.”
