RESILIENCE  HOPE  INNOVATION  IMPACT
As with so many other organizations, 2020 was one of the most challenging years The Women's Center has ever experienced. Yet, even as COVID-19 ravaged our community, we were there to help some of the most vulnerable people in Tarrant County find healing, strength and resources to move past crisis and improve their lives.

Those traditionally served by The Women's Center – the poor, those struggling with mental health issues, and those living with the trauma of abuse and violence – were among the hardest hit by the pandemic. Yet, as we addressed the need for a new way of working, innovated, and transformed all of our services to remote delivery, we continued to find ways to enable resilience in our clients and inspire the hope upon which they could change their circumstances and impact their futures.

In the end, despite the pandemic, The Women's Center served over 110,000 women, men and children in 2020. As astonishing as that number is, it is the stories of individual people that reflect the real impact of The Women's Center's work.

In this annual report:
• You will meet Gabriella, a little girl who thought no one would believe her about being sexually abused until she saw our Play it Safe!® Program and mustered the courage to tell.
• You will hear from Vivi, an Employment Solutions client, who says, “I found the strength to know I can find my way back in this life.”
• You will meet Anastasia, an adult sexually abused as a child who, after receiving counseling here says, “I am transformed from being rooted in pain and darkness to being rooted in courage and light.”
• And you will hear from Nona, an isolated and depressed older adult who says, “The Women’s Center’s PEARLS Program has been my lifeline… If someone had seen me a few months ago, they would not recognize me as the same person I am now.”

We do not know what 2021 will bring. We do know that unemployment and financial instability, mental health problems, and trauma experienced by victims of child sexual abuse, sexual assault, and other violence – all made worse by the pandemic – will be with us for a long time, increasing the urgency and importance of The Women's Center’s work. And we know that we are ready to weather that storm.

As you read our 2020 Annual Report, know that The Women's Center does not do its work alone. We do it in partnership with hundreds of volunteers, program partners and donors. If you are receiving this report, you are most likely in one of these groups. If you are not, we invite you to join us in changing the world, one person and one family at a time.

On behalf of all those who walk through our doors seeking a better life, thank you.

With Gratitude,
Amy Knight Brown
Board Chair

Anastasia came from a history of abuse. Beginning at age 4, she was sexually abused by a family member. She originally came to The Women's Center at the age of 7, where she engaged in two years of play therapy. As a teen, she returned when her parents began to see Anastasia’s behavior change. In therapy, she disclosed additional, ongoing sexual abuse by a close family friend. In both instances, law enforcement intervened, a Women’s Center therapist accompanied her through the justice process and her perpetrators were convicted and sentenced to prison.

As an adult, Anastasia recognized her need for deeper healing and resumed therapy. “My life has been entirely changed. Without the coping mechanisms I learned, I would be in a very different place. From a starving inner child to an integrated being, from bruises and broken bones to strength in my veins. From being rooted in pain and darkness to being rooted in courage and light, I am no longer a lost little girl scared to speak. I am a women ready to scream!”

1,951 people called the Rape Crisis and Victim Services 24-Hour Hotline.

353 survivors and their 267 significant others were counseled at local hospital rape exam sites.

515 women and men received therapy to overcome the trauma of violence.

119 children and their 87 parents/guardians received therapy to overcome the trauma of abuse.

241 victims received legal assistance from the Center’s in-house attorney.

96% of those receiving legal assistance achieved a successful legal outcome.

“I couldn’t take it one more day. I was on my last leg and it was weighing me down. I had given up on my life. Now, I see light at the end of the tunnel. I’m ready to get in the world and make a difference. I have my faith back. I have myself back. I’m happy now. Though I can’t change the past, I can now look forward to the future.”

Cherise
Childhood Sexual Abuse Survivor
“No one will believe you.” While a Women’s Center trainer was making a Play it Safe!® presentation about confusing touch and the importance of telling a trusted adult, Gabriella muttered these words under her breath. Since the trainer couldn’t immediately identify who said the words because they were muffled by the face masks worn in class, she began to stress the importance of one of the safety rules of the program—“If someone doesn’t believe you, keep telling until someone does.” Gabriella repeated her thoughts and, this time, the trainer was able to identify who made the outcry.

After the presentation ended, the trainer, teacher and counselor worked together to contact the appropriate authorities so Gabriella could be protected. Her perpetrator was identified and law enforcement was able to intervene. Gabriella’s mom shared her gratitude for the program, “Thank you for what you do. You’re changing lives!”

“Both of my children came home talking about the safety rule, and we were able to have some “What would you do if…” conversations. I am so grateful the program gets the conversation started and helps kids understand that they have control over their own bodies.”

“This year has been quite the challenge for having guest speakers on campus. Thanks so much for being so flexible and patient as we work through the process.”

High School Counselor
Leighton escaped from an abusive husband with two young children and made her way to Texas, where she ended up living in a homeless shelter. In her desperate escape, she left behind most of their belongings and documents – including birth certificates and immunization records.

While in the shelter, Leighton was referred to The Women's Center for additional help. A Women's Center social worker assisted her in obtaining copies of her critical documents, which allowed her family to receive much needed food and medical assistance. The social worker also secured a double stroller, car seats, clothing and other supplies for both children.

Soon, living in a homeless shelter with her children became overwhelming. Through guidance from her social worker, Leighton was able to reestablish broken relationships with her family and relocate to start a new chapter in her life. Today, Leighton is safe and secure while building a happy, healthy and promising future for her young family.

"PEARLS has been my lifeline, and I treasure every moment that I get to participate. How did I get to be so blessed? If someone had seen me a few months ago, they wouldn't recognize me as the same person I am now."

Nona
PEARLS Client
When Brynne came to The Women’s Center, she was homeless and unemployed. She wanted a more stable, secure life for herself and her children. She began working with a career coach to establish a pathway out of poverty. Soon, she secured a part-time job making $9.50/hour, and shortly after found a full-time position making $15.50/hour. The Center will continue to work with Brynne for the next three years to help her meet her career goals.

Additionally, she is working with a financial coach to develop and follow a plan to help her family achieve financial stability. She has already opened a savings account where she contributes small amounts monthly to grow her emergency savings fund. Brynne also began therapy to work towards healing from past emotional trauma.

Brynne is finally feeling hopeful. “I felt stuck. I didn’t have anywhere else to go. Now, I feel motivated and have the drive to keep pushing. Sometimes there is a minor setback for a greater comeback!”

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

From in-person events in the first part of the fiscal year to 'virtual' events in the last part of the year, community involvement was critical to sustaining The Women's Center's work during the pandemic.
Thank you for your support! During this challenging year, your contribution helped transform the lives of the women, men and children we serve.
